

REMARKS/ARGUMENTS

Claims 1-7 are in the application and stand allowed. However, the Examiner has objected to the specification, drawings and claims because the terms "holder" and "carrier" are not defined in the specification.

The specification, which was originally translated from Korean, has been amended so that it is now clear that element 20, previously referred to as a fixing member, is the holder, and element 30, previously referred to as a moving manipulate member, is the carrier. The terms holder and carrier were substituted for clarity and consistency with U.S. idiom. Further amendments were made to the specification for the same reason.

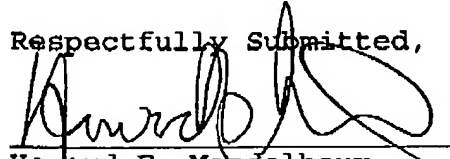

The objection to the specification is believed to have now been overcome in that it now provides antecedent basis for the holder and carrier.

The objection to the drawings is believed to have been overcome, because the drawings show the holder and carrier designated by reference numerals 20 and 30, respectively.

Finally, the objection to claims 1-7 is believed to have been overcome in that the holder and carrier are now defined in the specification and drawings.

In view of the foregoing, it is respectfully submitted that the application is now in condition for allowance. Early and favorable action is earnestly solicited.

Respectfully Submitted,
